BIO

Jonathan Wilson is the Head Coach of Sandcastle, a training and development consultancy focused on helping leaders design high-performance cultures built on trust and connection.

For the past six years, Jonathan has trained and educated business and non-profit leaders, public officials, and association executives on leadership and culture. He regularly shares his findings and insights to audiences at local, state, and national events.

Jonathan's first book, Future Leader: Rebooting Leadership to Win the Millennial and Tech Future, helps leaders better steer their organizations in this time of rapid generational and technological change.

Jonathan has a master's degree in public administration from Seattle University and is certified as a coach with the International Coaching Federation. He has held leadership and management positions in both the public and private sectors for many years.

Jonathan and his wife, Billie, live in a suburb of Seattle, Washington, with their two awesome kids.
