SPEAKER INTRODUCTION

When introducing me to speak, please read this instead of my bio

Our speaker today has been doing the daily hands-on work of leadership for more than 15 years. Serving in both public agencies and in private business, Jonathan has successfully planned, built, encouraged, and led numerous professional teams responsible for completing tens of millions of dollars of capital projects.

Jonathan Wilson is a keynote speaker and he frequently writes and speaks about leadership and building high-performance cultures that incentivize trust and connection.

Jonathan is also the author of Future Leader, a book dedicated to helping leaders steer their organizations in this time of generational and technological change. Jonathan has a masters degree from Seattle University and is certified as a coach with the International Coaching Federation.

Please join me in welcoming our speaker, Jonathan Wilson!
